Punctuality and Attendance

- Phone by 9.30am if child away – not via Class DoJo
- Mrs Geldard is unable to give any authorised absence for holiday during school term time.
- Please book your holidays during planned school holidays only.
- Persistent absentees – Family Support Worker.

Reading

- Reading is the best way to aid your child's development.
- Please read at least 3 times per week and record this in Reading Record. This can be a book taken from school or an appropriately challenging book/text from home.
- Reading Record Comment Guide.
- Reading Race – chances to win book vouchers for children. Each class earns points based on how many children read at least 3 times per week.

Homework

- Half-termly maths, phonics/spelling and topic grids which link to the learning for the following half-term.
- Picking a task from each grid every week will greatly support your child in their learning.
- Parents can choose which tasks and how often/long they wish their child to spend on a task – this is dependent on the individual child's age and ability.
- No expectation to hand in (is not marked) but can bring into show and will receive praise/incentives.

Expectations and Transition

- End of Year Expectation Booklets available on class webpage (Parents Information > Curriculum Pages > Maths / English).
- Work pitched to appropriately challenge groups or individuals.
- Intervention for those who need additional support – in groups or one-to-one basis.
- Transition meeting between teachers.

Assessment

- Lancashire KLIPS framework
- We will share whether your child is working
