

Year 2 have been finding signs of Spring

15th April 2021

Dinner Time

Dinner time on Thursday and today have been a joy to behold! The children have listened so carefully to the staff in school and to your advice at home and have totally understood that outside on the yard or field they must play only in their class designated area. As a result, nearly 210 children outside playing and laughing as well as well as being so disciplined and responsible was a wonderful first sign that we are on the long journey out of lockdown.

Gate on the Field

Please remember that we have a gate at the top of the field which can be used at drop off or pick up times to help ease congestion at the gate at the front of the school.

School Uniform

As detailed in the ParentMial yesterday, please ensure that your child wears the correct school uniform to school and that school shoes and not trainers are worn. Thank you.

Breakfast Club Stoppers After School Club

This week at Breakfast Club the children have been starting the day with a Go Noodle routine.

Stoppers After School Club

This week at Stoppers the children have been have fun outside on our field area.

If you are returning to the office after working from home and have been offered overtime remember you can book your child into Stoppers for one off sessions – whatever the reason!

Changes to the Covid 19 Risk Assessment

Following a thorough review, there have been some slight tweaks to dinner times where, from 12.40pm onwards, each bubble is able to play outside on the playground or field. Each class (or bubble) has its own distinct area and is well segregated from the other classes / bubbles.

As the children socially distant eat in the hall in their bubbles, we are now going hold assemblies for THE SAME bubbles with the children in the hall. Again, each class has its own distinct area and is well segregated from the other classes / bubbles. The other classes are joining the assembly via Teams.

Punctuality

All children should be in school by 8am, when lessons start. There is a small but significant number of families arriving late every day and this disrupts the learning of not only those children but the children in class who have arrived on time.

PSHE Consultation

On each class page on the school website are the videos detailing our revised PSHE curriculum. Please take a few minutes to look at these. Mr Clucas will be sending the questions for the consultation out via ParentMail early next week. Click on the link below to go to the classes page.

Online Safety Tip – Parental Controls

As well as engaging with your child to educate and guide them through a safe digital life - and so that you fully understand the latest developments - it makes good sense to take advantage of the filters and controls which you can use to reduce the chance that they will come across inappropriate or offensive content.

Do remember, however, that parental control tools are just there to help, and are not a fail safe answer. Nor are they an online 'babysitter' ... you still need to know what your child is doing online.

Here are the different types of precautions you can put in place:

Parental Controls on Your Computer or Mobile Device

Almost without exception, computers and mobile devices sold for use by the public are equipped as standard with the means for you, as a parent, to filter content which you do not want your child (or for that matter any other account holder) to access. These tools can be simply accessed via the control panel or other devices' settings screen. If in doubt about how to access and set these up, refer to online help or ask your retailer.

Parental Control Software to Buy or Download

There is a large number of different brands and types of parental control software available for both computers and mobile devices.

Typically, they enable you to filter out inappropriate content, reducing the chances of your child being exposed to it. Some allow you to set different profiles for if you have children of different ages who will be accessing the computer or other device.

Sometimes, these filters can over or under-block, so your child may not be able to access some perfectly innocent sites, or may sometimes be able to view pages that are inappropriate for their age. Most will let you block or unblock particular sites to give you more control.

Some parental control software lets you monitor your child's online activity, so you can see which websites they have been viewing and how long they were online for. Some even provides you with reports on your child's social networking activity.

Some programs enable you to set time limits to your child's online activities - restricting access to the internet, or to certain websites at certain times of the day. So you could block social networking or entertainment sites when your child is meant to be doing his or her homework.
